

Expungement and Clean Slate Clinic

Has someone's criminal record prevented you from providing services? Have you had a client who was denied housing or employment because of a criminal background? Do you see criminal records creating barriers for individuals? North Penn Legal Service (NPLS) may be able to help individuals with a criminal record break through those barriers to housing, employment, or licensing.

NPLS is presenting a free program at the Public Library for Union County. Join us for an engaging Zoom presentation, or in-person at the library. We will provide a general overview of our services along with specific information about expungements and Pennsylvania's clean slate law.
